Are you copying?

Are you copying content from books, journals, newspapers or magazines? If your organisation holds a copyright licence with us, this gives permission for you to COPY, SCAN and SHARE copyright protected materials with your students.

Understanding copyright

Understanding copyright involves knowing what copyright is, who owns copyright and what your obligations are. Sounds tricky, but we've got you sorted.

Our simple Copyright Basics eLearning course will make things so much easier for you. This online 30-min course will help you understand the concepts behind copyright and what a copyright licence allows you to do. It's a quick and practical learning tool.

It's important to understand that New Zealand copyright law differs from that in other countries. Overseas online resources are not a good guide, whereas Copyright Basics is 100% New Zealand and 100% relevant.

Who are we?

Copyright Licensing New Zealand provides licences to help make copying, scanning and sharing printed works easy and legal.

We are a not-for-profit organisation and the net revenue generated from our licences is distributed to the creators of the work being copied. It's our way of helping licence-holders maximise resources, educate our future creatives and provide an income to the clever people who created the work that is being copied.
